The campaign of 1879 may properly be called "the last ditch" for the Democratic party.

The Republican gain in Ohio over the election of last year is 40,000. This is a good starter for that State for 1880.

Ask a Democratic why his party is running a candidate for Governor, and you confound him at once. The conundrum is too difficult.

The vote of Ohio has been officially counted, and Foster's majority reaches 17,129. The entire Greenback vote of the State is only 9,129.

General Resumption has made a good many sound Republican speeches during this campaign. He will cut a wide swath in the campaign of 1880.

An opinion from Judge David Davis as to the present condition of the Democratic party, would be kindly received. He can't dodge the vote in Iowa and Ohio.

A party which depends upon hard times and business calamity for success like the Democratic party or the Greenbackers, can not succeed in 1879, and can have no hope in 1880.

Some Southern Democrats are taking the Democratic stump in New York. The Chairman of the Wisconsin Democratic State Committee, would invite Gully, of Kemper county, to stump Wisconsin. He is just the man to suit the Chairman.

Some of the Southern papers have made up their minds that General Grant will be the Republican candidate in 1880, and suggest that the man who can beat him is Bayard. To put Bayard after Grant would be like putting an ox-team against a locomotive.

One of the prominent Democrats of Madison, estimates that Governor Smith's majority will not be less than 20,000. He says the Democrats are not in a condition to organize, they want a leader and above all they need regeneration and a settled policy.

A Jenkins club has been organized in Milwaukee, for what, no one seems to know. Between four hundred and five hundred invitation were issued but a few only, were present at the first meeting, and they were a disappointed crowd. They could not get up a boom for Jenkins or any other man.

Mr. Jenkins went to Watertown and made a speech which a correspondent says was more Republican than Democratic. It did not suit the Democrats at all, but it pleased the Republicans very much. Jenkins doesn't seem to be in sympathy with the Parkinson plan of conducting the campaign.

Mr. Jenkins admits that part of his speech delivered in Madison one week ago last Monday was prepared by General Parkinson, of the Madison Democrat, Chairman of the State Central Committee. It will be remembered that Mr. Jenkins ignored the Parkinson part of the speech, when he spoke in Janesville. The first speech placed him in a bad light, and when he discovered that, he abandoned it

The Madison Democrat can't keep Jenkins on the Bourbon track. It wanted him to cry down the State administration—he refused. It wanted him to scream over Republican corruption—he declined. It wanted him to show why Governor Smith should not be re-elected—he couldn't. It wanted him to peddle those naturalization papers—he wouldn't. In fact Mr. Jenkins don't do anything that the Chairman of the State Committee wants him to do.

THE MILWAUKEE PRISON SENSATION.

The Gazette published on Thursday a brief account of the startling sensation in Milwaukee, caused by the story of an ex-convict who had been sent to the Milwaukee House of Correction for two years. The story of the ex-convict is made up of the most heart-rending and fiendish malignity on the part of the prison officials, of the cruel, brutal, and inhuman treatment of the prisoners, death from starvation, and in sickness, neglect and lack of medical treatment. The Gazette also published a special telegram from Madison, which stated that Hon. H. H. Giles, of the State Board of Charities and Reform, had been interviewed, and he gave it as his opinion that the appalling story published in the Milwaukee Sentinel, was true.

The ex-convict is Mr. D. Pearson, who at one time held several prominent positions in the East. He came to Milwaukee two or three years ago, and engaged in a scheme to heat Milwaukee by steam and he claims that through some machinations of his partner he was accused of forgery, rushed through Judge Mallory's court without a fair trial, and sentenced to the House of Correction for two years. While serving his term, he claims to have experienced the most inhuman treatment, and also had seen it inflicted on others. The story is sickening, and if it be true, the condition of the Milwaukee House of Correction will be found as bad as the prisons in Europe, when John Howard began his philanthropic mission. The article exposing the inhumanity of the prison officials and giving an inside view of the sufferings and the brutalities endured in that place, was written more than a month ago, and presented to the Sentinel. It was refused publication until the proprietors of the paper could satisfy themselves that the writer was trustworthy, and his wretched story true. In the meantime, a Chicago detective was employed to work up the case. He caused himself to be arrested on the charge of drunkenness, was convicted, and sentenced to the House of Correction for twenty days. He came out of the black hole with such facts as will enable him to corroborate the story of Pearson.

The charges are that flour for which the county was compelled to pay six dollars a barrel, was so poor that when made into bread, the cows and the hogs would not eat it; that the meat was putrid, and during his confinement embryo calves, dogs, and glandered horses were served as meat; that the prisoners would be unmercifully beaten, placed in a black hole in which a man could not lie at length, with no ventilation, and extremely filthy; that they were compelled to eat rotten vegetables, that no lights were furnished the prisoners at night; that the most vulgar and profane language which could be commanded, was used toward the prisoners; that the prison is revoltingly filthy, and the inmates were kept in that condition by the commands of the officers; that kidnapping is extensively practiced by the managers of the institution, and the persons kidnapped compelled to work in the chair factory.

These are in brief the charged. The details are as blood-curdling as any thing that John Howard ever wrote about the prisons in England and France. What will be the result of this exposure cannot be told. Libel suits will very likely grow out of the matter. The Evening Wisconsin says that Chief of Police Kennedy, who is one charged with these crimes and brutalities, will commence suit against the Sentinel for libel. He has taken counsel, and will fix the damage ot $50,000. It seems that the Sentinel is on the safe side or it would not have taken the responsibility of publishing such an article.

The State Board of Charities and Reform is engaged in making an investigation, and much interest will be felt in the result.

BEN. HILL.

The Georgia Senator Disgusted with the New York Politicians.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Senator Ben Hill, of Georgia, passed through here yesterday on his way home. His last attempt to effect a conciliation between the Kelly and Robinson factions in New York proved as unsuccessful as the first. Mr. Hill is understood to feel quite despondent at the prospects for his party in New York, and regards its defeat at the approaching election as a foregone conclusion. He did not speak in complimentary terms of New York politicians who compose the bolting element, and is reported to have declared that a more selfish and unprincipled set of men he never saw. To them the destruction of the Democratic party is a matter of perfect indifference, so long as they can control a good share of the Municipal Government of New York City. They were a species of political bandits and outlaws. It is evident from these utterances, and the bitter hatred with which Southern and Western Democrats now regard John Kelly and his gang, that all hopes of persuading him to withdraw as a candidate for Governor have been abandoned, and, despite the promises of Mr. Tilden's friends that New York is all right, and that the old gentleman's still-hunt tactics will surely yield good fruit on election day, the Democrats here appear to have made up their minds that another disaster is in store for them next month as great, or if not greater, than that in Ohio last week.

PREDICTION.

Of President Hayes in Relation to the Control of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23—The statement which the President made yesterday to Senator Kellogg that he expected that in 1881 Congress in both branches would be Republican, was based upon the belief and assumption that of the Democratic Senators whose terms expire March 4, 1881, six would be succeeded by Republicans. The Senate stands at present forty-three Democrats and thirty-three Republicans. By the defeat of these Democratic Senators and the election of Republicans in their places the Senate would stand thirty-nine Republicans and thirty-seven Democrats. The Democratic Senators who, according to this belief of the President, are to be defeated by the Republicans, are: Eaton, of Connecticut; Kernan, of New York; Randolph, of New Jersey; Wallace, of Pennsylvania; Thurman, of Ohio; and McDonald, of Indiana.

OFFICIAL VOTE.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 23—The vote cast in Ohio on October 14th for State officers was officially counted to-day, with the following result. Total vote for Governor 668,667, divided as follows:

Foster, Republican	336,261
Ewing, Democrat	319,132
Stewart, Prohibition	4,145
Platt, National	9,129
Foster's majority over Ewing	17,129

The total vote for Lieutenant Governor was 668,502, divided as follows:

Hickenlooper, Republican	335,140
Rice, Democrat	319,462
Sharp, Prohibition	4,331
Preyor, National	9,566
Hickenlooper's majority over Rice	15,678

TELEGRAPHY.

Progress of the Work of the Rapid Telegraph Company Between Boston and New York.

BOSTON, Oct. 20—The new American Rapid Telegraph Company has all its poles set down between this city and New York, and over 100 miles of wire strung, putting up two strings, those being all that will be required by the new process. The work is going on from both ends of the route. Some delay is experienced in the delivery of the wire, on account of the slow progress in the manufacture of an entire new style, which is steel thickly coated with copper.

It will require some length of time yet for the line to be put in full running order, the company intending to do the work thoroughly and substantially, as it is no ephemeral or experimental undertaking When the line shall be in successful operation from here to New York, work will be pushed on toward Washington, and not to Chicago, as at one time intended. After Washington, Chicago will be the next objective point.

The method of telegraphy used by this company is purely mechanical, messages being sent by simply turning a crank, and requires no hand-key operators. Prefor-ated paper is used in preparing messages for transmission, and they are received on strips similar to the Morse system. Low grade of operators only will be required, and schools of instruction have been instituted both in Boston and New York, in which young men and young women are taught at the expense of the company.

Cheapness, as well as rapidity is the basis of merit in the aims of this new company, and, if successful, they claim it will sweep the entire field of telegraphy.

NOMINATIONS.

MADISON, Oct. 23—The Republicans in convention at Stoughton to-day nominated Thomas Beattie, a wealthy resident of that village, as candidate for the Assembly from the Second District of Dane County. Mr. Beattie is a popular gentleman, and will be elected.

GREEN BAY, Oct. 23—The Democrats have been in much tribulation over the Senatorial Convention in this county. They tried to buy off a farmer who got the nomination, but failed. Then they recalled the Convention to-day, the city manipulators hoping to get a new man on the track, but they finally nominated Touhey, the original nominee, over again.

SHEBOYGAN, Oct. 23—The Republicans of this county made the following nominations yesterday: For State Senator, C B Henchel, of Sheboygan; for member of the First district, John M Kohler; for member of assembly in Third district, John Ruch.

RACINE, Oct. 23—Fred Klein, was nominated for the assembly by the Republicans of this district in their convention this evening. W P Packard, the gentleman nominated for that office by the Democratic convention last evening, has positively declined to be a candidate.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 23.—This afternoon the Democrats of the Sixth Senatorial District nominated the Hon George H Paul by acclamation as their candidate for the State Senate.

MARRIED.

BERLIN, Oct. 23—General McDonald and Mrs. Lymothe were married here at noon to-day, at the residence of County Clerk Shelling, where they have boarded the past three months. The ceremony was performed by County Judge Millard. The affair was quiet, in the presence of a score of friends from Ripon, Green Lake and Berlin. They remain here, and will probably spend the winter here. The General talks of settling in Berlin.

THREE SAFES ROBBED.

FORT ATKINSON, Wis., Oct. 23—Burglars entered the postoffice of this city last night and succeeded in opening a safe, from which they took $15. They then went to the office of Wilcox & Co., where they also broke open the vault and safe, but only found $50, which they stole. They proceeded to the office of Cornish & Curtis, and, breaking into their safe, found about $7.

SAINTLY SLEEPERS.

Six Persons in a Religious Trance for Three Days in Plymouth, County, Iowa.

Lemars Sentinel.

The Rev. S. T. Galbraith, a local preacher of the M. E. church, who came here from Ireland last summer, and who has been preaching in this county since that time, related last Saturday in Jones, the merchant tailor's store, to the editors of the Lemars papers, occurrences which he said transpired in Elkhorn township last Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and which are very stogular to say the least of it. He left R J. Campbell's Sunday morning, on horseback, for the purpose of filling his appointments, and proceeded to O. Higday's, in Elkhorn. Here he found five persons in all, comprising two men and three women, in a state of great spiritual elevation. In a short time they fell on the floor, and he, too, seized by the same fascination, soon followed. He laid in a trance, during which he had the most ecstatic visions. In a few hours the six persons recovered their consciousness, and each learned that the other had been blessed with heavenly visions. One of the sisters began prophesying, and told the band that they must remain there for three days and three nights without other food than she should be directed to permit. They again fell on the floor in a trance that continued until midnight, when they again awoke. In one corner of the room, near the ceiling, they saw a large, bright and beautiful star, and lights passed to ane fro through the room. One ot the sisters began singing the doxology to a new tune, one she had heard while in the trance, and all the others, by an instant, sang the different parts making the most delightful melody ever heard on earth. They again fell into the trance state, from which they awoke next morning. The prophesying sister, who said she was a representative of the Lord, from Wisconsin, told the others, they must organize, go forth and hold camp meetings, prayer meetings, holiness meetings and all sorts of meetings to stir up the people. They were to go to Wisconsin. They ate some bread and water and again became entranced. Mr. Galbraith saw a pillar of salt while in the trance. At one time he was seized with fierce and racking pains as if the devils had taken hold of him, but the good spirits or influence gained the victory, and he afterward had transporting visions. This continued until Wednesday morning, when Galbraith left for Lemars. Some friends were trying to raise funds for him so that he might return to Ireland, where his father is stationed as an Episcopal minister. This is substantially the story as told by Galbraith. All the parties to the singular transactions are known to us by name, but we forbear doing anything beyond outling the curious story.

A MOTHER'S GRIEF.

A Divorced Wife Forced to Surrender Up Her Children.

From the Detroit Post and Tribune.

There arrived in this city yesterday a man named Henry Livingstone, of Omaha, who applied to the Wayne Circuit Court for a writ of habeas corpus to compel his divorced wife to surrender his two minor children, who were then in her custody. Livingstone set forth in his petition that about a year ago he obtained a divorce from his wife on the ground of adultery, and according to the terms of the decree was given the custody of the children. Livingstone sent his wife to this city, where her father resides, and upon her promising to lead a better life allowed her to bring the children to Detroit with her. He set up in his petition that his wife had not fulfilled her promises to him, and that he desired to get possession of the children. As Livingstone was armed with the decree of divorce which fully established his right to the custody of the little ones, Judge Reilly granted the writ and issued the warrant asked for.

Provided with these documents, Deputy Sheriffs Edmunds and Bornman proceeded to the residence of Mrs. Livingstone, 155 Jay street, last night. The officers learned that the lady had gone to her father's house, taking the children with her, and accordingly Bornman started out in search of her, while Edmunds remained at the house to await her return. Mrs. Livingstone arrived home soon after, and Edmunds informed her of the nature of his mission, and advised her to submit to the decision of the court without causing them any trouble. This she consented to do, and had collected the children's clothing and made other preparations for their journey to Omaha when Bornman returned accompanied by Livingstone.

Suddenly the woman seemed to comprehend for the first time that the majesty of the law had been invoked to wrest her loved ones from her, and, clasping them in her arms, she begged the officers to let them remain with her. The husband, however, was inexorable, and told the officers to do their duty. Then the mother pleaded to be allowed to keep the youngest child—her baby—and, with the little girl clasped tightly in her arms, threw herself at the feet of the officers, and implored them to permit her to retain her darling.

Again Livingstone turned a deaf ear to the entreaties of his wife, and warned the officers that the time was passing. The men of law wiped away their tears, and in the tenderest manner possible took the child from its mother's arms and left the house. The unfortunate woman gazed wildly at the visitors as they left, and then, uttering a piercing shriek, fell fainting to the floor.

MUSICIANS ON A STRIKE.

Col. Mapleson's Orchestra Puts Him in an Awkward Predicament.

From the New York Sun.

The opening of Col. Mapleson's opera season at the Academy of Music this evening bids fair to be attended by some bother. At the Saturday rehearsal of "La Traviata" the leading members of the orchestra, who belong to the Musical Union, struck for a 10 per cent. increase of pay. Col. Mapleson flatly refused to comply with the demand, and the main body of the orchestra informed him that they positively would not play unless their terms were conceded. It was rumored that Col. Mapleson intended, in case the orchestra carried out their threat, to postpone the opening of the opera season until he could bring his London orchestra here. Mr. Charles Mapleson, however, denied this last night, and said:

"The trouble grows out of the Musical Union, which is a sort of a trade union. When we were here last year we found that we were pretty much at the mercy of the one man who hired the orchestra; so my father, under advice, concluded that we had better pay the orchestra ourselves. He therefore made contracts with the principal men, and they bound themselves to play six nights a week, if we wanted them. Now they come to me and say they have made contracts to play with the Philharmonic and other societies, and yet they know that if they should do so they would break their contract with us, as we could demand the proceeds of their other engagements. We paid the orchestra about $50,000 last year—an enormous sum—and about the price we would have to pay if we brought an orchestra from Italy. To be sure, the prices here are very high, and we only agreed to pay them because they do their work well. They play splendid—there is no doubt of that—and we supposed there would be some advantage in having them, because the people here are accustomed to them. But as to pecuniary considerations, we could bring our own orchestra here, and pay their fare both ways, for what we have agreed to pay these men. Some of them are quite willing to go on and play, but say they are bound to obey the orders of the union. Perhaps we shall have to test the question in court whether they are not obliged to keep their contracts with us, no matter what the Musical Union tells them to do. I don't see what we have to do with the Musical Union, or why these men should not keep their contracts. There is to be a conference at the Academy to-morrow morning. The whole matter will be talked over and probably settled then. The orchestra think they have us at a disadvantage; but my father will not yield, and the opera will go on to-night, even if we have to produce it with a grand piano. We have had to meet these emergencies before. I recollect one time, in an inland English town, we had trouble with our Faust, who finally declined to appear. We produced the opera of Faust without the character of Faust. Of course we had to cut the piece, just how I don't remember, but we got through with it and you may be certain that the opera will go on to-night."

Peanuts.

The peanut harvest of the South is about closing. The season varies a little in different States. It usually begins in Tennessee in the middle of September, in Virginia about the last of the month, and in North Carolina about the middle of October. These are the States that furnish nearly the entire supply for the country. The crop for this year is reported larger than than that of last, and is estimated at 125,000 bushels for North Carolina, 600,000 for Tennessee and 1,000,000 for Virginia, making a total that is an increase of 335,000 bushels over the yield of last year. The value of last year's crop at first hands was $1,500,000.

BREACH OF PROMISE IN CHINA.

How Refactory Lovers are Brought to Terms.

From the Shanghai (China) Shen Pao.

In a country village near Nanking lived two men named Chen and Yu. Yu had a daughter who was formally betrothed to Chen's son, and probably on account of her parent's poverty was sent to her future father-in-law's house to be brought up there. After a time Yu, who was a weaver, went to live in Nanking, and his daughter came to pay a visit to her mother. The girl, who was now grown up, was very discontented with her lot, complaining of having to work in the fields, and of her future father-in-law's roughness and coarseness; and her parents began to repent of the engagement, and determined to try and break it off. Next door to them was living a scholar named Chin, who was waiting for the next examination, and occupying himself meanwhile as a schoolmaster. Constantly seeing the girl, he took a fancy to her.

The future father-in-law, Chen, finding the girl was not sent back to his house, and hearing a rumor of Chin's attentions, began to suspect that Yu was trying to break off the match, and sent a matchmaker to hurry on the marriage. Yu replied that he had never accepted any betrothal presents, and that no one could make him take them, and that he would not give his consent to the marriage. Chen then went himself with the matchmaker, but with no further result than a great deal of mutual abuse. Chen next filed a petition in the magistrate's court, and Yu presented a counter petition, written for him by Chin. The case came on for hearing, and the magistrate soon elicited the truth. After rating Yu soundly, he turned to Chen and said: "You can take the girl or not, as you like, but I strongly advise you not to." Chin persisted in having her, and the Magistrate ordered the two parties to draw up a formal contract. Chin, who was present in court, motioned to Yu, not to sign the contract. He was detected, however, by the Magistrate in so doing, and was called up and questioned, and then cautioned that a man in his position should not mix himself up in a case of this sort. The Magistrate then looked up the almanac and chose a lucky day in June for the wedding day, whereupon Chin stepped forward on Yu's behalf and begged that the marriage might be held in the autumn This interference thoroughly exasperated the Magistrate, who thumped the table and ordered Chin to be kept in confinement till after the marriage was completed.

In a few days time the matchmaker presented herself at Yu's house with the customary presents. When she was well inside, the door was closed, and father and daughter fell upon her and beat her horribly. The woman, after this foretaste, not knowing what would happen on the real wedding day, appealed to the magistrate, who again called up the parties. You could only allege in excuse that the son-in-law had not come in person to the house. Chen said that the custom was given up in the country, and besides his son had not the money to buy a proper dress for the occasion. The magistrate replied that the bridegroom should certainly go to the house, and, as he was poor, the magistrate would give him the money for the dress. Moreover, when the day came, the magistrate said he would send two policemen with the bridegroom, and, if there was any trouble, the girl should be carried to the magistrate's Yamen and married there. When the day came, the policemen escorted the party to the bride's house and then back to the bridegroom's, and waited until the marriage ceremony had actually been performed, when they retired.

"How Long Have I to Live."

New York Mercury.

It is not every one who asks himself this question, because strangely enough, it is the belief of most persons that their lives will be exceptionally lengthy. However, life assurance companies are aware of the credulous weakness of those whose lives they assure, and have therefore, compiled numerous tables of expectancy of life for their own guidance, which are carefully referred to before a policy is granted.

The following is one of these well authenticated tables in use among assurance companies, showing the average length of life at various ages. In the first column we have the present ages of persons of average health, and in the second column we are enabled to peep, as as it were, behind the scenes of an assurance office and gather from their table the number of years they will give us to live. This table has been the result of careful calculation, and seldom proves misleading. Of course sudden and premature deaths, as well as lives unusually extended, occasionally occur, but this is a table of the average expectancy of life of an ordinary man or woman:

Age.	More years to live	Age.	More years to live
1	30	50	21
10	51	60	14
20	41	70	9
30	34	80
40	28

Our readers will easily gather from the above tabulated statement the number of years to which their lives, according to the law of averages, may reasonably be expected to extend.

AN OLD STORY.

Relating How a Whale Smashed a Vessel Sixty Years Ago.

Correspondence of the New York Sun.

We boarded this summer at the house of Capt. Thomas G. Nickerson, on Nantucket, the last survivor of the crew of the whaling ship Essex, which was sunk by a whale in the Pacific ocean somewhere about the year 1820. The story, as he calls it, is a thrilling one. The Essex was nearly new, reached the Pacific fishing grounds in good order, took and tried out one large whale, and clearing the ship as usual, for other captures.

One morning the lookout on the masthead sighted a large school of sperm whales. The boats were lowered and manned for persuit, and the captain's harpooner succeeded in striking a whale. He was then some three miles from the ship, and the mate's boat was hastening to his assistance. One of the men, happening to glance toward the ship, saw flying not only the signal to return, but the signal of distress. The mate's boat hurried back with all speed. Getting on board, they were informed that the ship had been struck by an immense sperm whale, and the water was rushing into the hold in a frightful manner. While they were endeavoring to ascertain the extent of the injury, the same fish, a monster in size, appeared, swimming directly toward him at a furious speed. The creature seemed to be either in great agony or in a fearful rage. He lashed the waters to a white foam with his tail, writhing and lifting his immense body half out of it bringing it down again with a report like a cannon, and rushing straight upon the devoted ship.

The first blow had been in the bows, and the shock had thrown the men off their feet and dashed everything from its fastenings, as though the ship in a gale had struck a sunken rock. The whale himself had seemed stunned for a moment. The second time he struck the ship on the larboard side, crushing her timbers and making her shiver from stem to stern. For a moment they thought the whale had killed himself; he turned on his back; panting heavily; then recovering himself for a last effort, he backed away and came at them the third time, with strength enough to open wider the yawning gaps he had already made. After that, apparently satisfied that he had done his work, he swam slowly toward the distant school, leaving the Essex with the water pouring in. The men kept firing guns as signals of distress, and the captain, having left the wounded whale, hastened to the scene of disaster. They had barely time to load their frail whale boats with the necessaries of life before the ship sank. More than three months after, having endured the utmost suffering and hardships that human nature can bear, and having in that time traversed nearly 4,000 miles of water and lost nearly half of their number, they were at last picked up. Captain Nickerson does not like to talk of this fearful passage in his life, and the horrors of it have left a permanent impression on his mind. He is living in the town of Nantucket, where most of the survivors lived and are well remembered by the inhabitants. He expresses the opinion that his ship is not the only one that has met her death by the anger of a whale, and that the victims of those monsters number far more than landsmen suppose.

PROF. HARRIS' RADICAL CURE FOR SPERMATTORHŒA.
—THE—
"SEMINAL PASTILLE"

A Valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science, an entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure of Seminal Emissions & Impotency by the only true way, viz: Direct Application to the principal seat of the Disease, acting by Absorption, and exerting its specific influence on the Seminal Vesicles Ejaculatory Ducts, Prostrate Gland and Urethra. The use of the Remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, it is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the sexual and nervous organizations wrecked from self-abuse and excesses, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dizziness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, Etc. Etc. and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring perfect Sexual Vigor, where it has been dormant for years. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a pronounced success. Drugs are too much prescribed in these troubles, and, as many can bear witness to, with but little if any permanent good. There is no Nonsense about this Preparation, Practical observation enables us to positively guarantee that it will give satisfaction.—During the eight years that it has been in general use, we have thousands of testimonials as to its value, and it is now conceded by the Medical Profession to be the most rational means yet discovered of reaching and curing this very prevalent trouble, that is well known to be the cause of untold misery to so many, and upon whom quacks prey with their useless nostrums and big fees. The Remedy is put up in a neat box, enough to last a month, and sent in a plain wrapper by mail sealed for $3.—Two boxes, (sufficient to effect a permanent cure unless in severe cases) $5.—Three boxes lasting three full months, will stop emissions, and restore vigor, in the worst cases, $7.—Full DIRECTIONS for using will accompany EACH BOX.

Send for a Descriptive Pamphlet giving Anatomical Illustrations, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected. Sent Sealed for stamp to any one. Sold ONLY by the

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1879.

NAPOLEON IN RUSSIA.

How He Entered the Czar's Dominions in 1812, and How He Left Them.

New York World.

I.

As Napoleon was about to cross the Russian frontier he paused, literally faint with hunger, at the little Polish village of Shrawedze, and made his way, accompanied by his staff, to the priest's house to ask if he had anything eatable.

The priest understood no French and could speak nothing but Polish, and Napoleon was unable to convey to him his meaning till he reflected that the Polish ecclesiastic was a Catholic and naturally had learned Latin. "Let's try him with the Roman Catholic language," said the Emperor, and straightway entered into a conversation with him in the tongue of the Cæsars.

The priest had nothing to give—nothing. The foragers had swept the village bare, a fact whereat the worthy ecclesiastic did not murmur, for were they not attempting the liberation of his country? "There's a priest," said the emperor, as with a laugh he clapped the good man on the shoulder, "here's a priest who doesn't set his heart on the things of this world."

Laughter, however, does not fill an empty stomach, and the emperor in dejected perplexity was gazing out of the window into the yard when he espied a hen, the solitary survivor of the sack of Skrawedze. "Reverendissime, ecce est pullu," he cried with elation; and summoning his aides, dashed into the garden in pursuit of the chicken, which was speedily captured and wrung as to its neck.

"If you are as good a cook as you are a clergyman," said the emperor to his host, "I shall have a famous bowl of chicken broth." But the priest was unversed in culinary lore, and every she in the village had fled. Two aides-de-camp, however, set about the important labor, and soon Napoleon had, with a soldier's iron spoon, eaten his bowl of broth, thickened with broken biscuit, and half of the fowl. Then after a doze of half an hour he mounted his horse and prepared to ride forward.

The Poles meanwhile had gathered outside, and were acclaiming him as "Father" and "Savior," but he paid no attention to their homage, and passed on, taking with him the priest as a guide. The unfortunate ecclesiastic had not even had the remainder of the last inmate of his henhouse wherewith to stay his stomach, and compelled to walk rapidly through the mud, was completely knocked when at last they reached the highway near the frontier.

The emperor bade Berthier send the priest back with an escort, having first counted out to him a sum of 20,000 francs to be distributed among his poor relatives and prisoners, then shook hands with him. "Vale, reverendissime," he said, "memento mei ad altare Dei," and rode across the frontier into Russia.

II.

The French army—the fragments of it, rather—bleeding, freezing, dying, was toiling homewards across the snow covered plains. Napoleon, foremost was hurrying to Paris, followed very closely by the Cossack scouts, when he reached a small town on the Polish frontier and entered its tavern (kaffeehaus). There was a throng of customers in its principal rooms as he strode in, and going to the fire place turned his back to the grateful warmth.

Mme. Mitzulewicz, the hostess, strove to push aside this unknown French officer who so cavalierly hindered her cooking apparatus. He wore the uniform of the Chasseurs of the guard and over it a cloak of velvet and fur, with upon his head a huge fur cap.

"'Tis he! 'Tis Napoleon!" whispered a tutor who was present to his charge, a young lap, and the wondering and awed boy drew near, curious to see the great emperor and to hear what he was saying to the hostess.

"Listen, you pretty little Pole, what a pretty little woman you are!" were the words that the youth heard. At that moment an officer of the Polish Krasinski regiment, the first that had crossed the Niemen and which at the passage had lost two hundred men and horses, swept away by the current, entered the tavern, and seeing the newly arrived guests bowed reverently before him, hailing him as "Sire."

"How did you recognize me?" said the emperor.

"The emperor gave me this at Wagram," answered the officer, touching the cross of the legion that he wore.

"I am the emperor," said Napoleon; "I have no need to deny it here. "Go, bring the sous-prefet to me at once."

"Off with your hats—the emperor!" cried the officer, as he quitted the apartment. Napoleon thanked the astonished and confused occupants as they rose, desired them to continue their occupations or amusements heedless of his presence, and sat himself to teasing maliciously the hostess, who no longer protested against his monopolizing the fire.

There was also in the room the wife of the second judge of the town, a young and very handsome woman; to her Napoleon paid violent court. "You are a very pretty little thing!" he said, pinching her ear and patting her cheek, after his accustomed fashion.

Rapp, Crulaincourt and some polish officers of the escort meanwhile had entered, and the sous prefet had hastened to the tavern. It was a ride of fifty yards through the woods to the nearest place of real safety, and already the Cossacks were scouring the frontiers. While the official, who had offered to find a guide, was preparing for his departure Napoleon dined voraciously upon a leg of mutton and carrots. "It was whispered that this was the first meal to which he had sat down since his departure from Moscow."

Looking up he saw upon the wall a framed engraving of the "Interview at Tilsit." "How things change in life," he said, "Tilsit in 1807 and now—take that picture down!" Then he went on to praise loudly the courtesy and good qualities of the czar, and expressed his admiration of the military talents of Constantine. Then he fell to his mutton and carrots, remarking to an officer that, apropos of handsome women, the Queen Louisa of Prussia was the most charming woman he had ever met.

III.

At this moment it was announced that the sledges were in readiness, the emperor was asked to review the national guard of the town which had been turned out in his honor. The sappers, who wore false beards and handled their picks in a very clumsy manner, excited his laughter, and turning to Rapp he said, "Aren't they ridiculous?" A great shout of "Long live the emperor!" was raised by the silly folk, ready to die for the vanquished sovereign who laughed at them, and Napoleon seemed pleased and complimented their commander, who said that was not all his force—he could turn out two thousand men.

"Two thousand men!" said the emperor, with some surprise; "if we can raise two thousand men in a place of this size, the country as a whole can easily furnish two hundred thousand. Things are not desperate yet," he added to Rapp.

The sledges were drawn up. Napoleon entered the first with his Mameluke, Roustan, and Rapp; Caulaincourt and the Polish officers were in the second; the third was laden with food and forage, Mikoulicz, a Pole, who was to act as guide, was told that the emperor traveled as Marshal Caulaincourt and not under his own name. Mikoulicz, who knew thoroughly all the intricacies of the forest, was to receive twenty-five thousand francs for his services. From Elba Napoleon sent him a ring with his cipher in brilliants, worth six thousand francs. Mikoulicz sold it to a German trader for four hundred francs. It may be added that the Russians when they discovered that thanks to the Pole's assistance, they had failed to capture the emperor, decreed the guide's punishment, and when they caught him sent him to Siberia.

The whips cracked and the horses sprang forward. Turning around the emperor cried gaily to Mme. Mitzulewicz, who was standing on her doorstep, "Adieu, baba!" and was gone.

He had mounted his horse for the campaign of Moscow, humming "Malbrough s'en va-t-en guerre;" he disappeared into the pine forests, comforted with his leg of mutton and carrots, leaving behind him the grand army, with for all farewell, "By by, sissy," to a pretty tavern wench.

IV.

The boy who was at the tavern with his tutor heard the words. He grew up to become a Polish bishop, Mr. Butkewicz, and writes the curious and interesting "Memoirs" from which this account is taken, and wherein he piously thanks God for having been permitted to see and hear so many wonderful things. Much that the good bishop saw and heard was by no means wonderful, but he saw Napoleon leave Russia, and heard from the old priest how Napoleon entered Russia, and makes his contributions of priceless trifles to the history of the crisis of the conqueror's career.

CATARRH
Catarrh of the Nasal Cavities, Acute, Chronic, and Ulcerative, Hay Fever, or Rose Catarrh, Catarrh of the Eye and Ear, and Catarrh of the Throat, SUCCESSFULLY TREATED WITH SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.
CATARRH is a disease of the mucous membrane. Temperaments and constitutions vary its severity in individual cases. Catarrh may arise from a cold or a succession of colds, from sudden change of atmosphere, wearing wet clothing, or exposure to inclement weather, and becoming thoroughly chilled when the digestive organs are in a morbid or inactive condition, and the strength and vital forces exhausted. The disease may arise from a scrofulous condition of the blood, from Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Diphtheria, in which cases the eye and ear are generally involved and discharge quantities of matter. The discharges from the nose, the distinctive feature in all catarrhal cases from whatever cause they arise, may be thin and watery, and so acid as to cause redness and excoriation of the skin with which they come in contact, or thick and yellowish, emitting a foul odor, or clear and white like the white of an egg. There may be an entire lack of secretion, the surfaces being dry and feverish, the face, front and upper part of the head feeling uncomfortable, and as if it was encircled by a tight, unyielding band. This latter phase is called Dry Catarrh. The free mattery discharges cause the passages to swell and become thickened, rendering breathing through the nose difficult or impossible, and the sufferer finds it necessary to breathe through the mouth, thereby permitting cold air to pass directly to the bronchial tubes and lungs. The matter passing down the throat creates a constant desire to hawk and expectorate to throw it off; but when the membrane is dry and feverish, instead of passing freely down from the nose and throat, the mucus becomes hard and forms into scabs, incrustations, and hard lumps, which adhere so firmly to the nasal passages and throat as to require very persistent efforts to dislodge them. The eye in sympathy becomes inflamed, red, weak, and watery, or in the morning the lids may be found glued together, and matter is secreted in more or less quantity. The ear also becomes seriously affected, discharging quantities of matter, besides being visited by the most violent neuralgic pains, ending frequently in inflammation, ulceration, and finally deafness. The throat, bronchial tubes, and lungs are in many cases affected by catarrh, and when prostration of the nervous system is superadded, such affections become alarming.
A brief survey of this most serious disease warns all who are afflicted with it to make speedy preparation for its treatment before it becomes chronic. The advantages offered by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE we confidently believe are to be found in no other remedy. Every step in its preparation, every line in the directions, is based on a scientific remedy, calculated to meet every phase of the disease. The numerous testimonials from the best people in the United States attest the esteem in which it is held by those who have been freed from the most destructive and dangerous disease with which mankind is to-day afflicted.
JUST PUBLISHED.
A carefully revised Treatise on Catarrh, with an accurate description of symptoms and sympathetic diseases, together with minute directions for effecting with SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE a speedy and permanent cure. Also observations on diet and the general health, of vast importance to all afflicted with catarrh. It is wrapped about each bottle of the RADICAL CURE, or will be mailed free on receipt of stamp.
Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for use in all cases. Price, $1. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Dr. V. CLARENCE PRICE
—HAS—
Visited Janesville
EIGHTEEN YEARS.
HAS met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all
Chronic Diseases
—OF THE—
THROAT,
LUNGS,
HEART,
STOMACH,
LIVER.
Head, nerves, kidneys, bladder, womb, and blood affections of the urinary organs, gravel, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, &c.
Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.
My practice not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1879.

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

—Fire up.

—Temple of Honor night.

—The coal wagons are busy rolling in the winter supplies of fuel.

—Dr. J. H. Warren started for Colorado yesterday on receipt of a telegram that his son was very sick.

—The nominations of officers for the Temple of Honor are to be made at the meeting this evening.

—Hon. R. J. Burdge, of Newark, the Republican candidate for the Assembly in the First District, was in the city to-day.

—Arrangements are already being made for the annual concert of the Bower City Band which is to be given December 16.

—The funeral services of little Frankie Wilbur are to be held at the residence of Mrs. H. Brown, No. 35 Jackson street, to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—The suit of Smith vs. the Rock County Agricultural Society, by which the Guards seek to recover the prize money won by them at the Fair, was called yesterday and continued for one week.

—Len Kinney, who had such a narrow escape from death yesterday, is feeling pretty well to-day, and the ill effects of his inhalation of gas, seem to have passed away, leaving no serious result.

—There are now fifty-one prisoners in Waupun who are living out sentences for life. There are three more in jail here, whom Rock county will gladly give up to swell the number to fifty-four.

—The Baptist folk are arranging to hold another omnibus sociable next Wednesday evening at the church parlors. If it is anywhere near as enjoyable as those which have gone before, it will be worth going to.

—This evening the Catholic Temperance Band will give another of their social parties at Young America hall. It should be largely attended, as these parties are always enjoyable, and to-night's will prove no exception.

—There is to be a temperance meeting at the First Methodist church to-night, at which rousing speeches will be given, and a general boom started, and if enough names can be secured a Good Templars lodge will organized.

—A horse belonging to Heitman, the butcher, took a run up Main street, then up Milwaukee, and onto Bluff street this afternoon. There were several narrow escapes from collisions but fortunately no damage resulted.

—Ed. Smith, who has now returned from his season with Burr Robbins, will resume to-morrow night his old duties as night watchman on the West Side of the river. He is one of the best men for that kind of work, who can be secured. He served most faithfully last winter, and roughs give him a wide berth. Besides being a good officer he is a gentleman every time.

—The funeral services of Frank Rose, son of the late Nathaniel Rose, were held this morning at the family residence in the town of Harmony, and were attended by a large number of saddened and sympathizing friends. Rev. Mr. Chapell officiated, and appropriate music was rendered by Miss Dolly Patten, Mrs. C. B. Conrad, Mr. D. D. Bennett, and Dr. Newman.

—Mr. Cunningham who was so seriously injured in the railroad collision at Jackson, Michigan, will not be able to be brought home for several weeks yet. The injury to his head is nearly healed, but his arm is in bad shape. It has had to be rebroken and set again, and in his enfeebled condition this was a most trying ordeal, but it is now thought that he will recover much faster. His friends here anxiously await every line of news from him.

--It appears from the Lamars Sentinel that F. W. Guernsey was the only Republican who was elected in the local contest in Plymouth county, Iowa. The same paper says of him: "Guernsey, our present able and efficient Superintendent of Schools is returned for the second time to his old position. The county could not do better. He has devoted himself to his duties with persistent earnestness. Mr. Guernsey is also elected to the position of County Surveyor."

—Mr. A. T. Hart left to-day for Cedar Falls, Iowa, where he will visit his daughter for a short time, after which he will go to St. Paul where he is to permanently reside, and where he will continue to look after the office work of his son's insurance business. Mr. Hart has been a resident of this city for over a quarter of a century, and at this time in life it is no easy matter to thus break away from such long associations. It is to be hoped, however, that he will find his new home a happy one.

—There promises to be a run of popular amusements this winter. Milton Noble's troupe is to be here on the 12th of November. He took so well when here before that he will draw a full house. John Dillon who also has a popular reputation here, and who always draws well says he will be here November 24. Haverly's Juvenile Pinafore Company is to be here on the 31 of December. Janesville has nearly recovered from the Pinafore epidemic, but in this secondary form it may break out enough to give the little folk a crowded house.

—Last evening some giddy blondes were to appear at the Opera house, and in consequence of the announcement there was only a gathering of men there, most of whom naturally gravitated toward the gallery. The audience was decidedly thin in numbers. The flaming posters were of such a nature as to lead many to suppose that there would be something rich, rare and racy, but as is generally the case with this kind of shows, it was all paper. It was the thinnest show which has struck the town in a long time. As one fellow was overheard to say about it—"The first part didn't amount to anything, and along in the middle it wasn't any better until it came to the end and that didn't amount to anything." The company consisted of four females and about as many males. The opening consisted of old jokes and musty puns, in which all took a part. Then followed some of the poorest singing and dancing by the males that ever was seen or heard. The females did not appear after the brief opening, until the close when they came on for about five minutes, and danced a little. It didn't have even the attractiveness of indecency to satisfy the curiosity of those who had thrown away their money on it. There was not the first feature of merit in any of the programme, and the few who were foolish enough to go are loud in their denunciations of the whole show. It is well that the company did not succeed in getting any more money than they did.

—The weather is getting cold, and therefore woolen under-clothing is growing in demand. M. C. Smith & Son who are never surpassed as dealers in under-wear, have received an immense stock of these goods. The stock is not only large, but choice, varied, and well selected. The prices are low and the goods are warranted to suit.

THE WEATHER.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON DRUGGISTS

The thermometer at 6 o'clock last evenstood at 43 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a. m., to-day at 32 degrees above; at 7 o'clock a. m., at 25 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p. m., at 46 degrees above. Clear.

One year ago to-day at 7 o'clock a. m. the thermometer stood at 39 degrees above and at 2 o'clock p. m. at 45 degrees above.

The indications are for the upper lake regeon, colder northwest to southwest winds, rising barometer, and partly cloudy weather, with light snows in extreme northern portions, followed in the western portion by falling barometer and a slight rise in temperature.

REPUBLICANISM AND CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

To the Editor.

Are we to understand that the twenty-six delegates at the recent Assembly Convention, elected at the caucuses where the grave question was not discussed were empowered to interpret the conviction of the Republicans of Janesville on so serious a matter?

Again, how is a Republican who has a profound conviction that to re-enact a law for capital punishment in Wisconsin would be a step backward, out of christianity, towards barbarism, to vote for a candidate nominated on this platform and pledged to its support? REPUBLICAN.

COUNTY COURT.

The November term coming on election day, will be adjourned to Wednesday, November 5.

AMOS P. PRICHARD, Judge.

MR JOHN MUHLIG, Poyner, Iowa, sends us the following communication: I have been a sufferer from Rheumatism for the last six years; I tried lots of medicines without success. Visiting one day the store of Messrs. Wangler Bros., in Waterloo, Iowa, these gentlemen induced me to try the ST. JACOBS OIL, telling me that it had a record as a very effective remedy. I bought a bottle, used it regularly according to directions, and was relieved of the ailment from which I had suffered for six long years.

DEMOCRATIC DOINGS.

C. Sexton Nominated for the Assembly by the Convention This Afternoon.

The Democrats of the Second Assembly District met at the Common Council room at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and were called to order by A. O. Wilson, who was chosen Chairman. Ed. Connell was chosen Secretary.

James Burgess, C. Lilly, and E. Ratheram were appointed as Committee on Credentials. They reported the following delegates:

First Ward—C Lilly, Richard Brown, Daniel Dowling, August Bauman, Horace McElroy.

Second Ward—S Hutchinson, W C Phillips, William Cox, Albert Sherer, Ed Connell.

Third Ward—J M Burgess, James Church, James Grant, Robert Williams.

Fourth Ward—Dr Robinson, E P Bly, William Hodson Neil Gillispie, A O Wilson.

Fifth Ward—Orville Wright, S B Case, T B Leahey, Thomas Lynch, Edward Ratheram.

Janesville—A D Maxfield, H W Cator, Charles Williams.

Rock—Wm Jeffries.

The delegates present were empowered to cast the votes for absentees. Messrs. McElroy and Bly were appointed tellers and an informal ballot was taken resulting as follows:

Charles Sexton	29
A Rogers	5
J J R Pease	4
R B Williams	2
D Davies	1
J Church	1
J B Whiting	1

A formal ballot was then taken resulting:

Whole number of votes cast	35
Sexton	24
Rogers	7
Pease	4

Mr. Sexton was thereupon declared the nominee. The usual applause did not come in, but the nomination was on motion made unanimous. R. B. Williams and O. P. Robinson were appointed a Committee to wait upon Mr. Sexton, who was in an adjoining room. When he entered there was a little attempt at applause. He made a brief speech of acceptance, and then retired.

The Chairman appointed as Assembly Committee: E. Connell, Chairman; C Lilly, R. B. Williams, Dr. Robinson, E. Ratheram, Mr. Maxfield, of Janesville, and Mr. Jeffries, from Rock.

Adjournment was then taken.

Among the Useful Toilet Articles

we notice a much liked preparation for the hair, possessed of properties so remarkable that no one who cares to own a clean and healthy scalp with beautiful hair should pass it untried. Its properties are cleansing, invigorating and healing, and after a few applications the hair ceases to fall. Dandruff and Humors disappear, and the hair grows clean, soft and silky. It keeps the head cool and comfortable and gradually restores the hair, if gray or faded, to the natural and life like color, beautiful to look upon. It is Parker's Hair Balsam that has won such popular appreciation by its many excellent and healthful properties. Sold in large bottles at only 50 cts. and $1.00, by all first class druggists.

To persons employed in constant mental toil, study or anxiety, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is especially adapted, namely to Teachers, Clergymen, Editors, Lawyers and impecunious business men.

CITY NOTICES

Lost—A broche shawl. An owner can be found at this office.

MONEY RAPIDLY MADE.

Small and large investments (from $25 to $10,000), in the combinations of Messrs. Lawrence & Co., pay large profits. This new and successful system unites thousands of orders from customers into one immense capital, and is managed with the best skill and experience in the stock market. Profits are shared pro rata by customers every month. Shareholders thus obtain all the advantages of large capitalists. Thousands are rapidly making money, and many have acquired handsome fortunes by this safe and legitimate method, which has been among the most successful of the movements of the Stock Exchange. £25 will make $125, or 5 per cent., $100 will return $500, $500 will net $3,000, etc., according to the state of the market. New explanatory circular, with "unerring rules for success," mailed to all applicants by Messrs. Lawrence & Co. Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, New York City.

REGULAR INDEPENDENT INCOMES,

Free from business troubles, are assured by prudent investments in stock. From $25 to $25,000, in the new Mutual Capitalization System, pays handsome profits. Anybody can successfully operate by this new method, and receive a pro rata division of the aggregate profits secured by great concentration of capital. A Chicago bank cashier made $469.13 in a capitalization of $50. A Milwaukee brewer neted $792.36 from an investment of $150 during the month of May. A Savannah gentleman netted $6,310.12 from three capitalizations. The Stock markets just is now in a condition to realize large profits by safe and judicious investments. New circulars "Rules for Success," and invaluable information to every investor mailed free. All kinds of Stocks and Bonds bought and sold by ADAMS, BROWN & Co., Bankers and brokers, 26 & 28 Broad street, New York. oct11daw2w.

Chills and Fever Prevented.

This bane of the West, which lays the foundation for many a consumptive, seldom fails to attack those with disordered liver. This tendency is effectually prevented by an occasional use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which by its alterative and tonic effects, produces healthy action of the blood and liver, and effectually restores the system from the mischievous effects caused by the abuse of calomel and quinine. Sold by all druggists. Sold in Janesville by Prentice & Evenson. oct2deodw1w

STOCK OPERATIONS THAT PAY.

The past few weeks have been prolific of immense percentages of profits at the New York Exchanges, by the careful use of moderate sums in well manipulated stock transactions, which returned a legitimate gain on capital invested according to correct business principles. Great activity prevails in the market. The safest and most successful method for operating in a regular way is in Financial Union by the Protective System of dealing in stocks, which affords absolute guarantees that cannot possibly be assured otherwise. The vast aggregates on the sales of shares that have recently attained such mighty proportions, have been chiefly promoted by the infusion of this new element, which has produced results surprising to all. The conservative basis of this system is its great safety. To be sure of gaining the large profits that accrue so quickly in stock movements, there must be reasonable protection against sweeping risks. This is why the Protective System excels all. On Monday three gentlemen in New York each invested $1,000 on Lake Shore stock by the Financial Union System, and on Thursday closed the operation with a net profit of $5,379.27 for each investor. Tuesday a bank cashier in Philadelphia put $3,500 in Protective Options on Northwestern stock, and on Saturday closed the contract with $12,685.73 profit. Early in the previous week two mechanics in Boston united their capital and invested $225 on Michigan Central, and 10 days afterwards they acknowledged receipt of $1,329.85 profits. The last week in July five farmers in Central New York invested $500 each in financial Unions on St. Paul stock, and on Thursday, the 14th of August, they closed the deal and divided $18,000 equally between them. A lady in one of the departments in washing on used $50 for two weeks in Protectives on Western Union and Lake Shore stocks, and made a clean profit of $379.68. On Saturday a prominent Pennsylvanian politician invested $1,500 in Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and Michigan Central stocks, and in five days drew out of the market with $7,563.24 profit. A large brewer in St. Louis put $2,500 in Protectives on St. Paul and Northwestern stocks, and fifteen days afterward closed with a gain of $14,958.37. These are examples of what has been accomplished in Financial Union by the Protective System of operating in stocks when good advice has been followed.—With the present activity the prospects for gain in the near future are more favorable, as the operations are equally as good for catching the profits from fluctuations up or down as they occur. Amounts from $25 to $25,000 or more can be invested with proportionate success by the Financial Union System on regular sales, that leave the control of funds in the hands of investors, with a definite knowledge at all times of just what stock their money is on, so that they can see at a glance what their profits are at any hour of the day by referring to market quotations. All operators are assured of straightforward treatment by the Financial Union System. Orders filled and information furnished by Messrs. ITHAMAR DIBBELL & Co., Bankers and Brokers, No. 19 BROAD Street, New York City. oct3daw4w

TO-DAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS

SECOND WARD ELECTORS.

We, the undersigned, composing the Board of Registry for Election District Second Ward, in the City of Janesville, County of Rock and State of Wisconsin, hereby give notice that the Registry of Electors in said district has been duly completed and corrected, and that the original list is on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Janesville, and that a copy thereof is in the Engine House in said ward where the election will be held; and in correcting said list we left off the names of the following persons for the reasons set forth:

Hemmens, Wm., Died.
Hadley, H C., Removed from Ward.
Long, James, Removed from Ward.
And that we changed the name of Howland, Jeremiah, to Howland, Jerome. and the name of
Smith, John, to Smith, John H.
and the name of
Toplemar, C F., to Toepelmann, C F.
And that we added the following names to said list:—

A FEW WORDS ABOUT
UNDERWEAR.

Articles of wearing apparel that are a necessity in this climate. We really think we have educated hundreds of Rock county people into the idea of wearing by offering it at prices within the reach of all. Buying everything in this line of the manufacturers by the case, we are actually retailing at the same prices asked by jobbers at wholesale, and presenting an assortment unsurpassed in the northwest.

ALL-WOOL!
UNDERWEAR

We cannot save you much money on 25 cent underwear, of which we keep a full line, but on anything from 50 cents up you will find it for your interest to examine our stock.

MISCELLANEOUS.

FURNITURE!

Still Down at Bottom Prices

Notwithstanding the recent advance in all kinds of Furniture, we are determined to keep prices as heretofore. Having kept posted as to the doings of the recent Convention of Furniture Manufacturers, we took advantage of the market and purchased 100 dozen Chairs, about four car loads, at the old prices with usual discounts. That's good news for persons wishing to purchase such goods. All goods at lowest prices. Parlor and Chamber Furniture the largest stock that was ever brought to this city. Our trade has never been better than last month. For five years past things have been booming with use. No use going to Chicago for Chamber Sets; we can beat them; we had it finely illustrated here to-day. No cheap goods here, but good goods cheap. No green lumber. If things are not as we tell you, we are here and you can see us; we are going to stay. Call and look over our stock.

UNDERTAKING:

Any work in the undertaking line we will do at very reasonable rates. Every facility for preserving the dead. Fourteen years experience. Satisfaction guarranteed.
